SCHOOL PREPARATION FOR 1STCLASS@WRITING TRAINING

Welcome to 1stClass@Writing! Here is some information about the intervention and how to prepare for it before your Teaching Assistant and Link Teacher come to Day 1 of the training course. Please copy this for them.

1stClass@Writing is an Every Child Counts programme developed by Edge Hill University. Your local Every Child Counts (ECC) provider or the school/organisation that has arranged to host the training will tell you about the dates and venue of the course. If you need any more information, please do not hesitate to contact them or the ECC Team at Edge Hill University.

I do hope that your staff and pupils enjoy and benefit from 1stClass@Writing.

Yours sincerely,

Nick Dowrick, Director of Every Child Counts

ABOUT 1STCLASS@WRITING

1stClass@Writing is an intervention for pupils mainly in Years 3 to 5 who have fallen behind at writing. A trained teaching assistant helps them to make faster progress so that they can catch up with their peers. The teaching assistant is supported by a senior teacher within the school who acts as a Link Teacher.

It has two versions:

The Pirate Writing Crew	for pupils who need support to access Year 3 curriculum expectations
Dragon Hunters	for pupils who need support to access Year 4 curriculum expectations

Your training course will be for ONE of these versions, as arranged with your ECC provider or host. If you are unsure which one it will be, please check with them.

The teaching assistant delivers up to 72 stimulating and motivating 40 minute lessons to a group of up to 4 pupils, 4 times a week, in addition to their daily class lessons. The pupils develop a balanced range of writing skills in order to complete daily writing tasks bound up with the thematic adventure stories. It all comes 'ready-made' with detailed plans and comprehensive resources.

What impact does it have?

Over 800 pupils in 200 schools have been supported by 1stClass@Writing.

- 70% of pupils made more progress than their class teachers had predicted them to make
- 88% of pupils showed more interest and confidence in writing after 1stClass@Writing

Identify a Link Teacher to attend part of the training and manage 1stClass@Writing

The Link Teacher will:

- provide the strategic leadership for the programme
- be suitably experienced to give support with the teaching of writing
- have time to support the teaching assistant and liaise with the class teacher(s), senior managers, SENCo, and other professionals as necessary
- attend two half-day training sessions with the teaching assistant.

We recommend that the Link Teacher is normally a senior member of staff. If the school prefers to nominate a class teacher who will liaise closely with the teaching assistant, then a senior manager can provide the leadership and additional support that will maximise the impact of the intervention.

Set up a teaching area

1stClass@Writing requires a teaching area away from the classroom where up to four pupils can sit around a table and listen carefully to their teacher and each other without distraction. They will need to engage in active and sometimes noisy activities without disturbing the work of the school.

THINGS TO DO AFTER THE FIRST DAY OF TRAINING

Training Day 1 will include guidance on these steps. You may wish to prepare them beforehand.

Choose the pupils to take part in 1stClass@Writing

1stClass@Writing works best if the right pupils are chosen to take part in it. The context and content are ideally suited for pupils in Year 3 to 5 who have already had some success with the writing but who struggle to have ideas or communicate these effectively in writing. The pupils may:

- need support to access Year 3 (Pirate Writing Crew) or Year 4 (Dragon Hunters) national curriculum expectations
- have spelling and/or handwriting difficulties that create barriers to writing
- be later-stage learners of English as an additional language (1stClass@Writing is not suitable for pupils who are beginning to learn English).

A group of four pupils should be chosen who can 'gel' and learn together. They should not normally take part in another intervention at the same time, to avoid overload.

Prepare a timetable

This is a typical example of a teaching assistant's timetable that has worked well in school:

AN EXAMPLE OF A 3-WEEK TIMETABLE FOR A UNIT OF 1 ST CLASS@WRITING
	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Week 1	Preparation and familiarisation time	Teach Session 1	Teach Session 2	Teach Session 3	Teach Session 4
Week 2	Unscripted session* (optional)	Teach Session 5	Teach Session 6	Teach Session 7	Teach Session 8
Week 3	Teach Session 9	Teach Session 10	Unscripted session* (optional)	Record keeping and preparation time  as the intervention goes on, individual differences between the pupils will become apparent and some may need extra support to keep up with the group. It is helpful to schedule time on which one or two pupils can revisit sessions or activities. This would provide an excellent opportunity for individual oral feedback and is allowed for in this timetable.*

Each lesson takes 40 minutes to deliver. Please allow plenty of time for the teaching assistant to prepare for lessons, to deliver them and to talk with teachers, particularly in their training term. We suggest that the teaching assistant is timetabled for 1 hour a day and we have included two additional preparation sessions in the timetable.

There are 6 units including one optional unit, so this timetable would be repeated 6 times over up to 18 weeks.

Make baseline assessments of the pupils

Initial assessments will help the teaching assistant and the Link Teacher to fine tune the intervention to pupils' needs and will provide a baseline for the school to measure pupils' progress by the end of the programme. The pupils' class teacher will be asked to assist by:

- selecting a sample of independent writing recently completed by each pupil in class
- assessing pupils' performance at entry tasks that the teaching assistant administers.

Start teaching!

The teaching assistant should start to deliver 1stClass@Writing as soon as possible after Day 1. This will enable them to get the most out of the course.
