Empowering Teaching Assistants to lead, support, and inspire

Teaching Assistants: the backbone of education

As a Teaching Assistant, you bring valuable skills to the classroom. Your role is critical in delivering individualised education, health and care plans, and in building trusted relationships that boost pupil engagement and well-being.

The HLTA qualification recognises your contribution and offers a clear opportunity to grow your career within education, enabling a more confident and independent delivery of learning activities, further enhancing your impact on your pupils' learning and development.

This HLTA Preparation Course is tailored for TAs who are currently employed in a school setting and are seeking to advance their pedagogical skills.

Applicants are welcomed from Teaching Assistants in all types of schools across all age phases. To be eligible for the HLTA Preparation course, you must:

- be employed as a Teaching Assistant in an educational setting
- have the endorsement of your Headteacher/ Principal
- have achieved a nationally recognised qualification at level 2 or above in English/literacy and mathematics/numeracy.
